Monte Albán is an important archaeological site located near Oaxaca City in the state of Oaxaca, Mexico. It was the ancient capital of the Zapotec civilization and is known for its impressive urban design, large pyramidal structures, and extensive terraces overlooking the Oaxaca Valley. Monte Albán was founded around 500 BC and became the capital of the Zapotec civilization. It reached its peak between 200 BC and 600 AD, when it was one of the most important cultural centers in Mesoamerica. Monte Albán has produced important archaeological finds, including hieroglyphic inscriptions, pottery, jewelry, and tombs that provide insight into Zapotec society, religion, and government. Monte Albán was designated a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1987 due to its historical significance and well-preserved ruins.

On our next visit to a mezcal distillery, we'll visit a mezcal distillery. Mezcal has deep historical roots in Oaxaca, where it has been produced since pre-Hispanic times. It is known for its artisanal and traditional production, which has been passed down from generation to generation.

Breakfast at the hotel. Free day for personal activities or an optional tour (not included) of HIERVE DE AGUA AND OAXACAN HANDICRAFT MARKETS. After a 1-hour walk, we will see a marvel of nature and history, the petrified waterfalls of "Herve el Agua," a striking setting with sulfurous waters characterized by their white color and immensity (they measure more than 200 meters in height). They were formed millions of years ago by carbonated water runoff, originating in the springs located in the cliff's climate.

Herve el Agua is another notable site in Oaxaca, Mexico, known for its impressive rock formations and hot springs. The most characteristic feature of Herve el Agua are its petrified rock formations, which resemble white waterfalls. These waterfalls are calcium carbonate deposits that formed over millennia by the flow of mineral-rich water from the springs.

This site was important to the region's pre-Hispanic indigenous cultures and is believed to have been used ritually due to the presence of pre-Hispanic terraces near the waterfalls.

On our way back, we will stop for lunch at a buffet-style restaurant to sample regional dishes (food not included). We will end by visiting the handicraft museum, located a few blocks from the main square, for souvenir shopping. Return to the hotel and overnight stay.
